

Salhouse Weekly Update

23rd October 2021

It has been so wonderful to enjoy a relatively uninterrupted half term where the children have had good continuity with their learning. They settled so well into their new classes which is no easy thing and demonstrated their independence and motivation to want to do, and be, the best they can. One of the loveliest things happening at the moment is the children (and staff's) growing love of singing and music. We all recognise it is something we love to share together and we make a good sound too!

Have a lovely half term break,

Julie
