

Salhouse Weekly Update

29th November 2021

Dear parents and carers,

Another good week! What were my highlights as I walked around the school this week? Coots- witnessing the fantastic progress they are making with phonics. Bitterns- joining in with their lesson as they became palaeontologists learning about Mary Anning.

Kingfishers – they don't stop learning, such a busy and engaged bunch.

Grebes- the amazing warmth when you walk into the classroom (not because of the heating but because of the strong bond between them all.)

Herons- such impressive art work with both their portraits and volcanoes.

Have a lovely weekend – sounds like it will be wild weather-wise
