

Dear parents and carers,

Best wishes go out to all those who are self isolating or may be feeling unwell. Thankfully we are almost back to a full staff.

My highlight of the week has to be attending the Norfolk Music Festival at St Andrews yesterday, to hear and support our talented salsa band. They were absolutely brilliant, so confident and entertaining. Impressive indeed.

I do hope the parent consultations supported your understanding of how your child is progressing. Thank you for the appreciation and support you felt able to offer my teachers. They care very deeply for the children and having your support is motivating for them. The sun is shining, and it should be a good weekend! Enjoy!

Next week

Fundraising for The Living room

On Friday 25th March we are supporting a year 2 child who is raising money for The Living room. A Charity providing a safe, warm place for rough sleepers in Great Yarmouth. We are inviting children to wear their pyjamas to school, a donation can be made on the school gate. Hot chocolate will be available to buy after school on the grass outside Coots entrance.

FOSS*Easter scavenger hunt

FOSS are providing a scavenger hunt for all the children on Friday 1st April.

They will also be holding a cake sale after school. If you would like to bake or buy a cake for the cake sale it can be dropped off in the school office on the day.

DEVELOPMENTAL
LABORATORY

UEA Child Psychology Lab need your help!

We are looking for children under 5 to help us with our child development research studies.

At the Developmental Dynamics Laboratory in the School of Psychology at the University of East Anglia in Norwich, we research how children think, remember and pay attention to things and how these abilities change in early development.

Your child is never too young to register with us & we can keep you up to date on new studies. We have new studies starting soon in our COVID-secure lab and online!

If you would like to sign up to hear about future studies or would like more information, please contact us at:

Child.Scientist@uea.ac.uk or message @DDPSYUEA

The team from the Developmental Lab at the UEA have asked if we could pass on the following information to you. They are a research laboratory based in the Psychology department at the UEA. They are interested in early child development. The lab is continuously carrying out research studies looking at how children think, remember and pay attention to things. They use fun tasks with toys or children look at changing pictures on a screen while they observe and track eye movement etc. Studies vary, it could be just a one hour visit at the UEA or some studies follow children's development over a number of years. They understand how busy family life can be and really appreciate any time you can commit to help them. After extensive preparation and detailed risk assessments the labs are running studies with social distancing as well as online. They have free parking at the UEA or can reimburse public transport travel costs. To thank you for your time your child will receive a toy and a 'child Scientist' T-shirt and on some studies they pay you a small thank you for your time. This research aims to aid diagnosis and intervention tools for children in the future. You can register to find out more information here:
